IKEA recalls LYDA jumbo cup due to burn hazard

IKEA kindly asks customers who have a LYDA jumbo cup to stop using the cup immediately and bring it back to any IKEA store for a full refund.

The cups can break when hot liquid is poured into them, creating a burn hazard.

IKEA has received twenty reports of cups breaking in use, including ten reports of injury. The affected cups were sold between August 2012 and April 2013.

No other IKEA cups are affected by this recall.

For more information, please contact IKEA at (08) 9201 4532.

IKEA apologises for any inconvenience this may cause.
