

Product Safety Recall

3 in 1 Sleigh Baby Cot with Drawer

New Aim Pty Ltd

The affected products were sold from 20 April 2013 to 23 April 2013

Defect: The baby cot does not comply with the mandatory Australian standard AS/NZS 2172:2003. Further testing has found there may be multiple failures with labelling and drop sides.

Hazard: The cot fails to comply with safety and performance, design, and marking requirements of the mandatory standard. The product poses numerous risks, in particular the risks of suffocation and entrapment, to vulnerable infants.

Where product was sold: Nationally including www.catchoftheday.com.au

What to do: All affected customers should immediately regardless of whether they have previously accepted replacement parts:

- Stop using the cot.
- Not re-gift or sell any used cots.
- Catchoftheday will provide a full refund and on behalf of New Aim Pty Ltd arrange for the cot to be collected and destroyed at no cost to our customers.

Contact details: Please contact catchoftheday.com.au Customer Service by email at recalls@catchoftheday.com.au if you have any further questions.

We apologise for any inconvenience it may cause for you.

See www.recalls.gov.au for
Australian Product Recall Information