01/06/2012 (450g)

Kellogg Australia Pty Ltd is conducting a recall of the above products.

The affected products have been available for sale in major supermarkets and independent grocery stores in Australia and New Zealand.

Our first and overriding concern is always the safety of our consumers and the quality of our product.

Problem: The recall of the above products is due to a few consumers finding a small piece of plastic in their cereal.

Food safety hazard: Consuming a foreign material may potentially be harmful.

What to do: Consumers should not eat this product.

Customers should return the products to the place of purchase for a full refund. We apologise for any inconvenience this may cause.
