

Product Safety Recall

EQUI-PRENE PRESSURE EZE DRESSAGE GIRTH SOLD BETWEEN 1 AUGUST 2009 AND 16 FEBRUARY 2011

The distributor of Equi-Prene Pressure Eze Dressage Girths wishes to recall all Black, Brown and White girths in all sizes due to manufacturing fault.

Defect: The elastic holding the buckle points may have been overstitched, causing weakness and possible tearing of the elastic. This problem only affects Equi-Prene Pressure Eze Dressage Girths purchased between 1 August 2009 and 16 February 2011. It does not affect any other Equi-Prene girth.

Hazard: If defect occurs whilst girth is in use the girth could break which could result in serious injury to the user.

What to do: Customers who have purchased this product from 1 August 2009 should return the girth to the store where purchased to obtain either a refund or a credit for replacement.
