

Product Safety Recall

Zart Art – Discovery Giant Sensory Water Beads

Sold at Zart Art and other various toy stores from February 2015 – February 2019

Defect The beads expand when water is added, reaching 3cm in diameter. If used as a sensory toy, the unexpanded balls may be swallowed. These balls may expand internally in the gut.

Hazard If swallowed, the balls can become large enough to create a gastrointestinal blockage causing vomiting, severe discomfort and dehydration and may need to be surgically removed.

What to do Consumers should cease using the Discovery Giant Sensory Water Beads as toys or playthings immediately. If consumers suspect their child has swallowed these water balls, they should seek medical attention immediately.

Consumers should return the product to the place of purchase for a full refund. For further information consumers should contact Zart Art on 03 9890 1867 (Monday to Friday, 8.30am - 5pm EST).

See productsafety.gov.au for Australian product recall information